The safety and quality of the products provided to you by MegaFun USA is very important to us. We have carefully reviewed all the mandates included in the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008 and comply with the standards and requirements. We have an ongoing testing program in place, by a certified independent third-party testing facility, to ensure that we meet the CPSIA and ASTM requirements.

All our Toys and Marbles have been tested by a certified independent third-party testing facility, and are in compliance with all lead, heavy metals, and phthalates regulations for children's toys specified within the Consumer Product Safety Improvement Act of 2008.

Based on the test results that are available to you upon request, we can confirm that our products are within the required limits and testing will be done on a regular basis to ensure continued compliance.

All MegaFun USA products are appropriately labeled as required by the Consumer Products Safety Commission and are submitted to an independent quality testing site for a review to ensure compliance.

Like many other vendors, we have invested a great deal of time and money to ensure compliance with all the regulations. You can be assured that we are committed to the continuation of testing by an independent quality testing institute that corresponds to the directives of the CPSIA. Your continued support of our product line is most appreciated.
